

Life is Beautiful

Our mouth filled with laughter,

And our tongue with singing . . .

The LORD hath done great things for us, we are glad.

(from Psalm 126:2-3)

Why we're celebrating:

The battle for the lives of the unborn is often a discouraging and thankless one, but two recent Gallop polls have given us reason to rejoice. For the first time in years, more people identified themselves as "pro-life" than "pro-choice". We celebrate because the tide is turning:

The May 7-10, 2009, Gallup survey found a significantly higher percentage of Americans identifying themselves as "pro-life" than "pro-choice," 51% vs. 42%. The current poll . . . finds a nearly even split between the two sentiments. On a long-term basis, both 2009 measures . . . indicate a modest shift toward the "pro-life" position.<sup>1</sup>

Here at the Pregnancy Resource Center we see small victories everyday: an abortion minded woman falls in love with her baby through ultrasound imaging, a scared teen gets the tools and support she needs to tell her parents she's pregnant, a boyfriend brings his pregnant girlfriend in for counseling and both accept the hope of Christ. Add to these moments the knowledge that we're gaining ground nationwide and we have cause to rejoice. We are changing the face of the pro-life movement to look more and more like Christ everyday.
