happy
father's day

A man may feel alone when he finds out he is going to be a father to an unexpected child. Because you chose to partner with our ministry, men who came through our doors were embraced by a loving community eager to support them. They will celebrate Father's Day with their new additions knowing that they are now part of that community.

They might not be able to thank you personally, but we are glad to echo their gratitude. Thank you for being a part of this life changing community.
