happy
mother's day

It's easy for a woman facing an unexpected pregnancy to feel alone. Because you chose to partner with our ministry, women who came through our doors were embraced by a loving community eager to support them. They will celebrate Mother's Day with their new additions knowing that they are now part of that community.

They might not be able to thank you personally, but we are glad to echo their gratitude. Thank you for being a part of this life changing community.

happy mother's day
